

ARBORICULTURE

Originally, arboricultural techniques were used by workers at heights in situations where there was no other safe descent. These techniques mainly include creating a securing point and positioning the rope by using a throw bag.

